

Ph.D. Field Requirements

For students entering the program Fall 2021 and later.

CORE COURSE REQUIREMENTS

OTHER ADDITIONAL REQUIRED COURSES

AMERICAN POLITICS

251. American Political Institutions AND 252. American Politics: Behavior OR 257. Voting and Elections	1. Two graduate seminars numbered POLI 252-257 or 260-265 POLI 259s or other courses may be used by petition to the American Field Coordinator. 2. Methods Requirement: POLI 204B POLI 271 AND One additional approved methods or analytical theory course to be completed before advancement to candidacy
---	--

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

220B. Comp Politics: Institutions AND 220A. Comp Politics: State and Society	1. At least one seminar in political development, democratization, or regime change 2. One additional seminar in comparative politics
---	---

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

240. International Relations Theory	Three graduate seminars numbered: POLI 232, 236–248 GPS courses: With prior written approval of the IR Field Coordinator, students may take GPS courses that (1) have sufficient int'l content, and (2) incorporate additional requirements for PhD students To be taken for at least one year: 283. Workshop in Int'l Relations
--	---

POLITICAL METHODOLOGY	270. Mathematical and Statistical Foundations. 271. Advanced Statistical Applications	Two graduate seminars from the POLI 206, POLI 263 or 270-279 range or Methods workshops, such as: POLI 260 Social Science Replication POLI 263 Theory & Analysis/Experiments POLI 276 Qualitative Methods POLI 277 Measurement Theory POLI 279 T/Social Network Analysis POLI 279 T/Graphical Models and Statistical Learning POLI 287 Multidisciplinary Methods in Political Science: Social Networks POLI 288 Multidisciplinary Methods in Political Science: Computational Social Science POLI 289 Multidisciplinary Methods in Political Science: Biology
POLITICAL THEORY	FOUR courses numbered 210-219	