How do you plan to be successful as a Political Science student at UC San Diego?

“Study, balance social life and academics, have fun, focus on mental health and stability, have a good routine for myself and surround myself with positive influences and people that inspire me and I aspire to be more like.”

“Work hard, complete all assigned work, stay focused, and try my very best at all times.”

“I plan to be successful by staying organized academically, reaching out to my fellow peers majoring in Political Science, and taking any opportunity to work with a mentor and gain real experience.”

“Study, study, study! Additionally, taking advantage of as many opportunities as I can during my time at UCSD.”

“I plan on studying my materials and spending quality time on my homework. I also plan on being involved in campus activities relating to political science.”

“I am planning to manage my time well, and ensure that I put great effort and time into the subject. I will also try to be as engaging as possible to be able to learn both in and outside of the classroom. Furthermore, I will continue what I have already done which is to keep myself updated in regards to what is happening around us, and the world.”

“I plan to use campus resources and reach out when I need help.”

“I plan to actively take part in any arising opportunities (i.e. volunteer work, internships, joining a club/org in relations to political science, etc.) that would give me more experience in the field. In turn, my experience in the field would theoretically help me to be successful at UCSD.”

Public Policy vs. Public Law:

Policies are objectives that a government sets for itself to achieve in a given period of time, and laws are the tools that help a government achieve these objectives.
POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJOR OPTIONS

Nine Majors:

- General Political Science (B.A.)
- Political Science/American Politics (B.A.)
- Political Science/Data Analytics (B.S.)
- Political Science/Comparative Politics (B.A.)
- Political Science/International Relations (B.A.)
- Political Science/Political Theory (B.A.)
- Political Science/Public Law (B.A.)
- Political Science/Public Policy (B.A.)
- Political Science/Race, Ethnicity, and Politics (B.A.)

Requirements:

- 16 Political Science courses
  - 4 lower-division and 12 upper division
- Have an Area of Concentration?
  - 5 of the 12 upper division courses must be fulfilled in the concentration
- ALL courses for the major must be political science courses
- ALL courses must be taken all for a letter grade
  - This applies to transfer courses as well!
- You may change your major online with the change of major tool once you are enrolled in your fall courses.
The General Catalog is the official resource to verify policies and your college and major requirements: http://www.ucsd.edu/catalog/

Course descriptions are in the catalog; use it to learn about courses and to choose your electives.

Refer to the 2020-2021 catalog throughout your tenure at UCSD. This is your catalog year and it will not change even if you change your major.
The Political Science Major and Minor

Political science addresses some of the fundamental problems facing human society. Questions concerning world peace, government policies aimed at achieving economic stability and growth, the management of environmental quality, control over political competition, the possibility of using law to affect social and political change, and the gap between the rich and poor in the U.S. and abroad are all on the research agendas of contemporary political scientists. The general purpose of the major is to address these and other issues systematically, and, simultaneously, to raise the broad theoretical questions which can help students relate today's political debates to those debates about politics which have kept a theoretical tradition alive for over 2,000 years.

Students may major in political science as a general program of study, or they may concentrate in one of seven areas: (1) American politics, (2) comparative politics, (3) data analytics, (4) international relations (5) political theory, (6) public law, and (7) public policy. All majors, besides the data analytics concentration, in political science must satisfy the following sixteen courses: PS 30 (Political Inquiry), three of the following four lower-division courses (Political Science 10, 11, 12 and 13) and twelve upper-division courses. Student pursing the Political Science-Data Analytics (B.S.) major must satisfy the following sixteen courses: PS 5 (Data Analytics for the Social Sciences), PS 30 (Political Inquiry), two of the following four lower-division courses (Political Science 10, 11, 12 and 13), and twelve upper-division courses.

If a Special topic course is offered, see the department for details regarding applying this course toward an area of concentration (i.e., PS 154 is the special topic course for International Relations and, depending on the topic, may be applied to one of the International Relations area of concentration categories). Upon notification from the student that a particular course should be counted in their area of concentration (based on review/approval in the department), a form is included in the student's file reflecting this information on the transcript.

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

- Course Offerings 2020-2021 can be found on our website at: http://polisci.ucsd.edu/undergrad/courses/index.html

- The schedules posted on our website are tentative and subject to change.

- To get specific information on faculty and days and times courses will be offered, visit the Schedule of Classes on TritonLink once the schedule for any given quarter goes live.
The online schedule allows you to search for courses by:
- Subject
- Department
- Course Number (code)
- Professor or Course Title

It also allows you to sort by:
- Day of the week
- Time of lecture
- Upper/Lower division only
- Classes with open seats

Schedule of Classes
Select search term: Fall Quarter 2020

Important information Regarding the Fall 2020 Schedule of Classes:

Classes will be offered in 3 different instruction methods: 1) in-person, 2) fully remote, and 3) hybrid, a combination of in-person and remote meetings. Below is how to identify the different methods of instruction as you plan and register for classes:

- In-Person: Every class meeting time for the course will have an on-campus building and room.
- Fully Remote: Every class meeting time for the course will have a building name RCLAS.
- Hybrid: Class meetings times for a course will have a combination of an on-campus building and room assignment and a room assignment with the building name RCLAS.

In an effort to strictly enforce social distancing in the classroom, the enrollment capacity of in-person and hybrid classes will not exceed 50 students. No exceptions will be made.

If you select the list you may use your keyboard to jump to a subject code.

WAITLISTS AND ENROLLMENTS

- To add a class that is full, use WebReg to waitlist the course.
- Waitlists are automated and used by ALL departments. They run nightly until midnight on Thursday of second week.
  - The waitlist sequence is first-come, first-served. Departments cannot override the waitlist sequence.
- You will receive an email to your UCSD account if you have been added to the course. If you have not met the prerequisite, WebReg will drop you from the waitlist.

> The Political Science Department does not allow late adds

- Enrollment Information:
  - You must adhere to all add and drop deadlines. Enrollment calendar:
    http://blink.ucsd.edu/instructors/courses/enrollment/calendars/index.html
  - Incoming students: Before the quarter begins, you may be enrolled in and wait-listed for a total of 19.5 units. After the quarter commences, you may be enrolled in and wait-listed for a total of 22 units.
  - Continuing students have a 2 Pass Enrollment system: Later, as a continuing student, you will enroll in 11.5 units during your first pass and up to 19.5 during your second pass.
MAJOR AND COURSE PLANNING

- Quarter by Quarter plans help you plan out your Political Science major and remaining courses effectively

- Political Science Website – Fillable PDFs; students are more welcome to fill out a plan and have it verified by the Undergraduate Advisor.

- College – Also has Quarter by Quarter plans

- Websites: https://polisci.ucsd.edu/undergrad/academic-advising-information & http://plans.ucsd.edu/
DEPARTMENT OPPORTUNITIES
Exciting and Relevant Courses

- Courses that range from “Insurgency and Terrorism” to “The Voting Rights Act: 50 Years Later,” to “International Politics and Drugs” to “Bending the Curve: Climate Change” to “Democracy and its Critics.”
- The Department also brings in practitioners who channel their real-world experiences into courses like “How to Win or Lose and Election” and “Science, Technology, and the Law.”

Undergraduate Professional Development Workshops

Examples:

- Workshops on resumes, cover letters, networking, job search strategies, and Political Science career paths
- Internship Panel
- Study Abroad opportunities, programs, and scholarships + application to Political Science Major
- Graduate school opportunities, applications, and deadlines
- Future program and event planning
ALUMNI MENTOR PROGRAM

Launched in the Fall 2017 Quarter

- Two tracks in the program: Career Track and Exploratory Track
  - Career Track: Students are matched with a mentor in one of his/her top three fields
    - Connect with the mentor via: 1) a career conversation; 2) a resume critique; and 3) a possible mock interview
  - Exploratory Track: Students are matched with a mentor outside of his/her top three fields
    - Connect with the mentor via one required “career conversation”
  - Successful applicants will have
    1) A minimum 3.5 major GPA; and
    2) Earned at least 90 units

Available Fields:
- Education
- Entrepreneurship
- Foreign Service
- Government (local, state, or federal)
- Healthcare
- Law
- Non-profit
- Politics
- Private Sector
- Urban Planning

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Research Apprenticeship Program

- Work directly with a departmental mentor for the winter and spring quarters. Each student will collaborate with a doctoral candidate on the mentor’s own research project.
  - Winter and Spring Quarter: Commitment to 12 hours/week as a research assistant; earn major credit (POLI 198RA)
  - Spring Quarter: Additional participation in a weekly research seminar (POLI 199); write a seminar paper of approximately 20 pages under guidance of graduate student mentor

Eligibility:

- Majors in Political Science
- Recommended major GPA of 3.0 or higher

Independent Research (POLI 199)

- Independent research project with faculty
- Elective credit can be earned for the completion of two POLI 199s with 4 units each

https://polisci.ucsd.edu/undergrad/research-opportunities/index.html
SENIOR HONORS PROGRAM

Two quarter senior thesis project designed for highest achieving students

- Completion of POLI 191A/B and honor’s thesis may qualify you for honors
- POLI 191A/B are allowable for major credit toward the upper-division elective category
- Eligibility: Senior standing, minimum 3.6 major GPA in order to be eligible, completed all lower division courses for your major, and completed a minimum of five UD POLI courses

A great opportunity for students, especially those interested in pursuing graduate studies in political science!

- You can view all the honors theses that have earned honors since 2012 on our website at our “Departmental Honors” page
LOCAL INTERNSHIP RESEARCH PROGRAM

Participants will receive advanced training in research methodologies and academic credit while working at a local internship. Internships are relevant to Political Science and have professional quality engagement.

Courses:
- Enrollment in both a Research Seminar course (POLI 194SD) and an Internship Seminar course (POLI 197SD) for 4 units each
  - Completion of a 20 page paper for the Research Seminar
  - The Research Seminar is allowable for the major, but the Internship Seminar is not allowable

Eligible Applicants:
- passed at least 90 units;
- a 2.5 minimum cumulative GPA overall;
- a GPA of 3.0 or higher in political science;
- taken POLI 30(D); and
- taken at least two upper-division political science courses.
Examples of internships include:

- U.S. Senator Dianne Feinstein's District Office
- U.S. House Representative Duncan Hunter's District Office
- U.S. House Representative Scott Peters' District Office
- California State Senator Joel Anderson's Office
- Sarah Boot for City Council Campaign
- Allen Theweny for El Cajon Mayoral Campaign
- San Diego County Taxpayers' Association
- United Nations Association of San Diego
- United States Attorney's Office-Southern California District
- San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce
CAMPUS OPPORTUNITIES FOR MAJOR REQUIREMENTS
UCDC & UC CENTER SACRAMENTO

Live and Work in Washington or Sacramento for a quarter!

- Intern for one quarter in Washington, DC or Sacramento and receive UCSD course credit for an internship, major credit for a research seminar, and an optional elective course
- Gain firsthand exposure to professional environments, and develop the skills you need for your future career
- Establish and expand your professional network
- Referrals and recommendations have long been proven to have a major impact in the job search

Internships are available in all types of settings and industries, and are a great way to polish your resume
STUDY ABROAD IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

Travel almost anywhere in the world while taking Political Science courses and receiving credit for the major.

Up to 6 courses may be transferred to the major from outside UCSD!
GLOBAL CONCENTRATION IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

The global concentration in political science capitalizes on students' study abroad experience, language skills, and UCSD global content courses. This is a transcripted concentration, meaning it will reflect on your transcript, but not on your final diploma. This is not a major in political science, but rather a concentration that any political science major may formally declare once all of the requirements have been met.

Requirements:

1. Minimum of eight units earned through study abroad, of which a minimum of four units would count toward the major. This can include study, research, and internship experiences provided they are transcripted.

2. Demonstration of proficiency in a second language through the fourth quarter of university-level instruction. Contact your college with questions about this requirement.

3. Minimum of two courses with department- or program-identified global content (courses which focus on non-US cultures, countries, or policies). Political science courses POLI 11(D), POLI 12(D), and any POLI course numbered 120-169 taken at UCSD will satisfy this requirement.
CAREERS AND GRADUATE SCHOOL
YOUR MAJOR IS NOT BOXING YOU INTO A PARTICULAR CAREER

- Political Science equips you with transferrable skills that will make you valuable in a variety of settings. Use these skills to market your academic knowledge and professional attributes.

THE ATTRIBUTES EMPLOYERS MOST SEEK ON A CANDIDATE’S RESUME:

1. Leadership
2. Ability to work in a team
3. Written communication skills
4. Verbal communication skills
5. Problem solving and critical thinking skills
6. Strong work ethic

Transferable skills inside the classroom: ability to communicate, methods and research (interpret and analyze data); analytical abilities (analyze and solve problems systemically and strategically); planning and development (conceptualize problems and demonstrate leadership); group skills (ability to work in a team) *Source: APSA Careers and the Study of Political Science
DEPARTMENT WORKSHOPS & EVENTS: 2019 - 2020

Undergraduate Professional Development Series (2 – 3/quarter)

Krinsk-Houston Law and Politics Initiative Events
- Managing the Transition to Law School
- Watching the Democratic Debate
- Building a Successful Law School Application

Based on input from our current majors, we plan to implement more events focused on:
- Preparing for Graduate School and Law School
- Careers and Internships for Political Science Majors
- Research Opportunities
- Student Involvement Opportunities
- Networking with Graduate Students, Faculty, and Alumni

Attorney Networking Night with UCSD Pre-Law Fraternity in February
The Initiative creates a premier pre-law experience that matches the ambitions and talents of UC San Diego's students. This experience includes student instruction, a partnership with the University of San Diego School of Law, and rich community engagement.

- Law school faculty, practicing attorneys, and judges teach classes that give students the skills necessary for success in law school and the legal profession.
- Provides students, regardless of their financial need, with support to take part in internships in Washington, D.C., Sacramento, and San Diego.
- 10+ Pre-Law, seminar-style classes.
- Internship page updated frequently.
RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

The median annual wages of college-educated workers with political science majors (ages 25-29) is $64,000. This is higher than the median income of all social science majors ($60,000); and higher than BA holders, all majors ($61,000).

The top 25% of political science majors earn nearly $100,000 annually.

55% of all political scientists work for the federal government, most of whom work in the executive branch.

EXCELLENCE IN AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOM
Tom Wong
His research focuses on the politics of immigration, citizenship, and migrant "illegality." As these issues have far-reaching implications, his work also explores the links between immigration, race and ethnicity, and the politics of identity. Last year he served as an advisor to the White House Initiative on Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (WHIAAPI)

Molly Roberts
Her research interests lie in the intersection of political methodology and the politics of information, with a specific focus on methods of automated content analysis and the politics of censorship in China

Thad Kousser
He studies American state and national politics, government reform, direct democracy, interest group influence, and how politicians use social media

Marisa Abrajano
Her research is in the field of American politics, particularly in the areas of campaigns, mass electoral behavior, and race/ethnic politics.
STUDENT INVOLVEMENT AND SUPPORT
OFFICE FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES INFO

- Department OSD Liaison: Joanna Peralta
- Information on standard procedures can be found on our Department website
- To receive accommodations as we work through “Return to Learn”:
  - Must meet with OSD Specialist to receive an Authorization for Accommodation (AFA) Letter
  - You do not have to wait until classes begin to start the process
  - You will be contacted, expect an email during Week 1 of the quarter
  - Set up and appointment if applicable

By the end of your appointment your questions should be answered, exams scheduled (if applicable) and any follow-ups will be scheduled.

For Fall 2020: The course instructor or a TA will provide accommodations for any on-campus exams, assuming there are in-person exams required for a course.
STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

- Political Science Student Association (PSSA)
  - Organization for students majoring in any of the Political Science majors

- Mock Trial

- Model UN

- Pi Sigma Alpha: National Political Science Honor Society
  - Eligibility:
    - Completed at least seven (7) political science courses, including at least three (3) upper division courses (transfer students must have completed at least two (2) of the three upper division courses at the University of California, San Diego);
    - Maintained no less than a 3.60 GPA in all political science courses

ADVISING STRUCTURE
MULTI-TIERED ADVISEMENT

Department advisors are your resource for any questions regarding your Political Science major requirements

- You should always contact us for questions concerning your major requirements
- Questions might include: major requirements for any of the seven political science majors, double majors, course planning, enrollment issues in political science courses, honors programs, academic policy, etc.
- You will consult with your College about their specific requirements, University requirements, overall unit issues, etc.

Fall 2020 Advising Availability

Monday - Friday
Answering questions via the Virtual Advising Center between 8:00 – 4:30pm
RSVP Q&A

• Is it important to choose a specific subject in my major?
  It is up to you!

• Can a student be recognized for studying two kinds of Political Science (i.e. Public Law and Public Policy)?
  No, but that is why the Elective category exists!

• What is the process for declaring a minor?
  Major/Minor Tool – find on TritonLink

• When and how do I switch to a different Political Science major?
  After you sign up for Fall classes; Major/Minor Tool

• Can I double major and graduate on time?
  Yes! Know both major requirements + submit petition

• Do political science classes fill up fast despite it being a non-impacted major?
  Depends → After Fall, Strategize 1st vs 2nd pass

• How will classes be conducted this upcoming year due to COVID-19?

  Fall = Mostly Remote; Winter & Spring are unknown for now

• How will I be able to participate in activities/programs if they will be remote?

  Participate remotely → Workshops, meetings, activities, etc.

  People, Departments, and Programs are all adjusting.

• How do I know I am doing all the necessary steps, because I feel as though I am missing things I am not aware of (documents/enrollment procedures). Is everything through email?

  Check Email, TritonLink, Canvas, Financial Aid, VAC, etc.

• What are the most effective ways for Political Science students to take advantage of UCSD's resources during their time here?

  Do your research, read websites, attend information sessions, explore opportunities, and think about what YOU want to do
